Examinations and Grading

Your final grade in this course will be based on relative total scores for each student derived from the following;

Exam 1	20.00%
Exam 2	20.00%
Presentations	12.00%
Cases	16.00%
Homework Assignments	16.00%
Quizzes	16.00%
Total	100.00%

Grading: Letter grades will be assigned based on the following scales;

90% or more	A
85 - 89 %	B+
80 - 84%	B
75 - 79%	C+
70 - 74%	C
60 - 69%	D
59 or below	F

Examinations:

There will be 2 Exams. No makeup exams will be given. If you are unable to take a scheduled exam due to hardship, you must notify me PRIOR TO the exam and provide documentation supporting the reason. Failure to do so will result in an exam grade of zero. Exams dates are shown above.

Cases

There are 8 cases (2.0% per case). The cases and instructions will be outlined in canvas. The majority of grading will be on effort and understanding and articulation, not my overall agreeance with your point of view.

Quizzes:

There will be 8 Quizzes. There will be one every week. They will take approximately 30 minutes. Each Quiz will count for 2.0 points. They will be multiple choice or true/false and be derived from the lectures in class that week.

Homework Assignments:

Homework Assignments are shown above. These are to be done and submitted over canvas (LEO). They will be graded MAINLY on completeness, not accuracy. There are no late assignments accepted.

Group Presentations:

Guidelines and instructions will be posted in LEO. We will work on these in class in the penultimate class week (see dates above). You will upload these presentations during the last class week (see above).

Plagiarism:

Rutgers-Camden Undergraduate Catalog states that, “act of plagiarism, cheating, or other form of academic dishonesty are not tolerated,” Any students caught copying from another’s exam or who knowingly allows someone else to copy from his/her exam will at a minimum receive a grade of 0.0 for this course.

Exam Make-up Policy:

If, for a university approved reason, you cannot take an exam at the scheduled time you must give the professor written notice at least one week in advance so that other arrangements can be made. If the situation does not allow for advance notification (for example, emergency hospitalization), contact the professor as soon as possible after a missed exam. Make-up exams for non-university approved reasons are not guaranteed. The professor reserves the right to request written documentation to support your absence (such as a doctor’s note, an obituary, or military orders). No make-up will be given for short quizzes.

Academic Integrity

“Academic integrity requires that all academic work be wholly the product of an identified individual or individuals. Joint efforts are only legitimate when the assistance of others is explicitly acknowledged...The principles of academic integrity entail simple standards of honesty and truth. Each member of the university has a responsibility to uphold the standards of the community and to take action when others violate them...Students are responsible for knowing what the standards are and for adhering to them. Students should also bring any violations of which they are aware to the attention of their instructors.”

Students are expected to know, understand and adhere to the policies on academic integrity outlined above. Procedures for violation of these policies outlined in the University Code of Academic Conduct will be followed.

Incomplete Policy

It is the policy of the School of Business that incomplete grades are to be issued only when a student, due to an inevitable emergency, is unable to take the final exam at its scheduled time. In addition, the student must be passing the course in connection with the work completed at the time the “IN” is assigned. An “Incomplete” will not be given to a student simply because he/she wishes to retake the class and improve on his/her grade received.
